NOTES ON PRIOR PRICE GRID

1. An SDK licenses is required to integrate the product in own applications.
2. A Runtime license is required for each computer where will be executed the software integrating the SDK. A desktop license is required for applications not making an intensive and continue usage of SDK functions, and used by just an user (front-office). A server license is requires for applications or services running on shared computer, like servers, or for batch processing and continue usage (back-office). So, for example, an IQA desktop runtime license is required for a bank teller, where a server runtime license is required for bank centralized processing structure.
3. To perform multiple parallel processing are required multiple runtime licenses. For example, an application integrating IQA SDK and using multi-threading to perform processing of 8 cheques in same time, will require 8 runtime licenses.
4. Runtime prices are referred to usage in desktop application: price of runtimes for server usage are 7.5x the desktop prices. For example an IQA runtime for server usage is priced 1500 EUR. For royalties free version simply subtract 7.5 licenses from the amount of available runtimes. Limitations for desktop runtimes can be applied (as quantity of processing per unit of time): please ask our team for more details on differentiation.
5. Prices are for 32 bit version of SDKs: the 64 bit version of SDKs and RTM, if available, is priced 25% more.
6. Prices are expressed in EUR (European Currency) and VAT 22% is not included (if applicable)
7. This price list can be updated periodically without advice: please ask current prices before to order!
8. Ask a quote for distribution of large number of runtime licenses or if you need to deploy two or more different product runtimes or if you have special requirements.
9. Buying products marked as "royalties free" you can distribute up to 1000 runtimes with your application without pay royalties: if you need to distribute more runtimes you need to buy more licenses of the product. Eg: if you need to distribute 3000 runtimes for deskew, you should buy 3 licenses of Deskew Library.
10. "Free" SDKs require to buy at least a runtime license.
11. "Lite" version of ICR works as the professional version but is limited in speed up to 5 char/sec. "Lite" version of OCR works as the professional version but is limited in speed up to 10 char/sec. "Lite" version of Barcode Recognition Library works as the professional version but is limited in speed up to 10 char/sec. If you need more speed you can purchase multiple licenses. For example if you need ICR at 15 CPS you can purchase 3 ICR Lite licenses.
12. Royalties based version of our products requires an hardware key (dongle) or a software key to be installed and used: if you prefer to get a dongle (allowing to move the license from a computer to other) add 20 EUR, else you can get for free a registration key. Please note that when you move the license on other computer you need to ask a new registration key: we cannot give more than one registration key per year, so consider to order a dongle if you plan to change pc frequently. Also consider that software keys don't work on virtual machines but only on physical computers. For special projects requiring a large number of licenses (>1000) the software and the hardware keys can be removed and the distribution regulated by a written agreement. Some products can be shipped only with hardware keys: in this case the cost of the dongle is enclosed in the license.
13. If the order requires physical delivery you will be charged also for delivery cost.
14. Before to place an order is required that you test the product using the evaluation version available from our web site because is not allowed any refund after physical or electronic delivery of sw/key.
